BEST THANKSGIVING TURKEY

Did you know that one of the best thing in your kitchen cupboard is a 'Cheesecloth?'

Cheesecloth is a cotton cloth that is not dyed. The loose weaving pattern of the cloth and the strong cotton structure enables cheesecloth to be used to strain liquids from food. A cheesecloth is a wonderful tool for baking your holiday turkey.

They took a mobile Fashion Accessories Company for both Men & Women to a Kiosk at the

Mix in small sauce pan two sticks of butter, your favorite seasoning salt, cracked black pepper, poultry seasoning, granulated garlic and a spoon full of peppercorns.

Soak a double layer of cheese cloth in the sauce pan. Drape the cloth over the turkey and wrap under the turkey while it roasts. Bake the turkey according to size in a 325F oven.

The skin will be a rich, golden brown; if you prefer a crispy skin, remove the cheesecloth 30 minutes before taking the bird from the oven.

Commentary from Proprietor/Artist

As you enjoy Thanksgiving Dinner lets reflect on how we have been blessed.

Have you ever complained about something without thinking of someone less fortunate. It could be worse.

While your having your Turkey think about all those wonderful leftovers and how they can be used to make someone a pot of soup.

When eating your dressing think about making a stuffing patty.

While eating the Baked Mac & Cheese think about your second portion, your going to have.

While you are enjoying the cranberry sauce, think of another recipe, to make from that sweet jellied sauce.

When tasting your mother's or wife's green beans think about putting away a side for your church's kitchen or cupboard.

And last but not least when making that sweet potato, apple, or cherry pie, remember to freeze the leftovers for a nice snack the second week of December.

On this Thanksgiving Day make an extra, something, even if its one plate, and reach out to someone that might not be as fortune as you and I. While your picking up your can goods do not forget to get something for your church's cupboard.

TO ALL OUR FRIENDS, FAMILY, CLIENTS, AND LOVED ONES, PLEASE HAVE A SAFE AND HAPPY THANKSGIVING.
